Postal Stationery.

The definition of 'Postal Stationery', as shown in 'Collect British Postal Stationery' (2007) by Huggins & Baker, is:

Postal matter which either bears an officially authorised pre-printed stamp or device, or an inscription indicating that a specific rate or class/category of postage or related service has been prepaid.

The 'Cavallini' (little horseman) letter sheets issued in 1819 by the postal authority in Sardinia (to ensure the tax on letters was paid), are regarded as the earliest known form of Postal Stationery, which of course pre-dates the introduction of Rowland Hill's Uniform Penny Postage by a good 20 years.

On 6th May 1840, the 1d black and 2d blue adhesive labels were introduced as pre-payment for the carriage of letters to destinations 'anywhere in the British Isles'. At the same time, 1d and 2d 'Mulready' Envelopes and Letter Sheets were also introduced - both of which are Postal Stationery items, but well out of the range for use with Perfins which were not officially sanctioned until 1868.

For G.B. Perfin collectors, we have to wait for the introduction of pre-paid Postcards and Newspaper Wrappers which were first issued on 1st October 1870. These two categories account for around 80% of the G.B. Postal Stationery items encountered.

A small selection Postal Stationery items - often encountered as 'cut-outs'.

Throughout the 'Gault Catalogue of G.B. Perfins', reference is made to postal stationery items using the Description and Type employed by Maurice Harp & Rosemary Smith in their detailed study 'Perforated Postal Stationery of Great Britain'. This password protected electronic publication is available to Perfin Society members as a free download from the Perfin Society website - www.angelfire.com/pr/perfinsoc

The following Postal Stationery items are discussed at length by the authors:

- Post Cards and Reply Paid Postcards
- · Newspaper Wrappers
- Envelopes
- · Registered Envelopes
- Air Letters
- · Telegraph Forms
- Sloper's Experimental Cancels

To date, some 371 different Perfin dies have been recorded on a variety of Postal Stationery items, broken down as shown below:

TOTAL DD	Wrappers	Postcards	Envelopes	Registered Letters	Air Letters	Telegraph Forms	OOPS! Only On PS	User Known	Multiheaded Die
371	217	106	47	20	10	10	74	275	29
	58%	29%	13%	5%	3%	3%	20%	74%	8%

An experienced G.B. Perfin collector will intuitively know that Newspaper Wrappers are by far and away the most common Postal Stationery item encountered, a fact borne out by the above figures. Then we have Postcards, Envelopes, Registered Letters, Air Letters, and finally Telegraph Forms which are rarely encountered.

The number of identified users using Postal Stationery stand at 74%, which is significantly higher than the average for G.B. Perfins in general which is 60%.

Often the perforating die used for sheets of stamps is also used to perforate Postal Stationery items, but in 20% of the cases, individual dies and presses have been made specifically to perforate them - the 'OOPS' category above. Because of the nature of Postal Stationery, single headed dies are generally used so that a single Perfin pattern is applied to an item, although there are exceptions as the 'Multiheaded Die' column shows.

Having said that, on closer inspection, the strikes from 'Multiheaded' dies may sometimes be found to exhibit minor differences from the patterns produced on sheet stamps pointing to hitherto undiscovered individual single headed dies made specifically for use on Postal Stationery. As and when these are proven, a New Die catalogue number & silhouette are created for the newly discovered die, and the various catalogues updated to suit.

The Earliest/Latest dates for each Postal Stationery category (taken from the latest version of the electronic Postal Stationery Catalogue) is as follows:
